Ridgway Tells Rhee Forces Firmly To Defend South Korea

By OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO (AP)—Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said today that more than 1,350,000 Communist troops are poised to strike at United Nations forces in Korea.
Light attacks were beaten off along Korea's mid-section, but the Reds still held off their threatened second invasion of South Korea with their vast tide of manpower.
The new Allied field commander in Korea set the motto for his troops, Lt. Col. Matthew B. Ridgway met President Syngman Rhee of South Korea for the first time and said: "I aim to stay."

Officer Call-Up Planned By U.S. Army

9,650 Slated For Active Duty

WASHINGTON (UP)—The army planned today to call some 9,650 more reserve lieutenants and captains to active duty by March 22.
The call-up will bring to 27,000 the number of army officers returned to uniform on an individual basis since the Korean war began.
Army spokesmen said most of the new group, including 890 physicians and 850 dentists, are expected to volunteer "as a patriotic service in time of national emergency." They added, however, that mandatory orders will be issued unless enough men volunteer.
The order will affect 5,420 lieutenants, 1,900 captains, 100 Wacs, 163 chaplains and 415 assorted medical specialists in addition to the medical officers. The men will be called from both active and inactive reserve ranks.

Oil Tycoon 'Furious' As Daughter, 17, Weds

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Millionaire oilman Glenn McCarthy was reported to be "furious" today over the marriage of his 17-year-old daughter to a cobbler's son.
McCarthy, whose fortune has been reckoned at $200,000,000, was a poor boy himself when he eloped 20 years ago with the daughter of an oil millionaire.
However, he curiously refused comment on reports that his daughter, Glenalee, had been married to 19-year-old George Pontikes, a sophomore football player at Rice Institute.
Friends who called at the $700,000 McCarthy mansion Christmas Day said the 43-year-old oil magnate appeared "stunned and at a loss for words."
Young Pontikes and Miss McCarthy were described by friends as former "high school sweethearts" who had kept company "off and on" for four years.
Pontikes first denied he was married to McCarthy's daughter. However, he weakened when told that Justice of Peace Nash Oliver of Waco, Tex., had confirmed that he had performed the marriage ceremony on Dec. 2.
"ASK HER FATHER," the youth said.
It was not clear whether Glenalee, a senior at Lamar High School, was still living with her family. However, it was reported she spent Christmas Day at the Pontikes residence, a small house behind the shoe shop of Angelo Pontikes, the boy's father.
McCarthy's riches include vast oil holdings, refineries, a chemical company and the swank new Shamrock Hotel here.
Glenalee, second of five McCarthy children, had been scheduled to serve as maid of honor today at the wedding of her elder sister, Mary Margaret, and Harry Richards Jr., Texas A. & M. College student.
However, friends didn't know whether that plan had been changed.

C.P.A. Officials Declare Pilot Changed Planes

Icing, Mechanical Fault Revealed

(Special To The Times)
VANCOUVER — Commenting on reports that the ill-fated DC-3 airliner which crashed Friday north of Penticton, B.C., had returned here twice before finally making the flight eastward over the mountains, Canadian Pacific Airlines officials today said the first return "was due to a mechanical fault in the undercarriage which prevented it from being raised."
The plane, loaded with 15 passengers, crashed on Mount Okanagan, killing the pilot and co-pilot. All the passengers and the stewardess escaped serious injury.
Company officials, in recounting the two returns of the flight to Vancouver, added that after the first return the pilot changed aircraft.
ICING ENCOUNTERED
Then, on the second flight, icing conditions were encountered by the craft on the west side of the mountains. This caused the pilot to turn back again.
Officials added:
"On the third trip the pilot reported, from the air, to a west-bound C.P.A. flight, which had just taken off from Penticton, that the icing conditions which he had first encountered, had cleared up. At the time of the conversation the aircraft was at 15,000 feet, in clear weather and was seen by the westbound C.P.A. flight."
Officials further stated that 35 minutes after the aircraft crashed, a second flight from Vancouver landed at Penticton, reporting good weather in that area.
C.P.A. announced that an investigation by the company will begin immediately.
INQUEST TODAY
The C.P.A. statement came as survivors of the crash gathered in Penticton to testify at the inquest into the death of the two crew members, pilot Quentin Moore and co-pilot Leo Ducette, both of Vancouver.

Vancouver Island Survivors

Mr. and Mrs. John Lipsack of Cowichan Lake presented the appearance above to a photographer at the base camp four and one-half miles from the spot where the DC-3 airliner crashed, causing the deaths of the pilot and co-pilot. Mrs. Lipsack received a beautiful shiner in the wreck. They both came out after spending two nights at the crash scene. Fourteen others survived the accident.

Truman Names Envoy To Spain

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today picked Stanton Griffis to be U.S. ambassador to Spain thus ending a five-year snub of Generalissimo Franco's regime.
Griffis, 63, of Boston, has previously served as ambassador to Poland, Egypt and Argentina.
His appointment to Madrid was forecast a month ago, after signs appeared that diplomatic snubbing of Spain by the United States would be ended. Relations have been maintained with Franco's one-party government, but not at the ambassadorial level.
The United Nations General Assembly voted early in November to lift a ban in effect against Spain and permit member nations to send ambassadors to Madrid.
Griffis' new appointment will go to the Senate for confirmation when the new Congress meets next week.
Norman Armour, the last American ambassador to Spain, was withdrawn in December, 1945. For most of the intervening period the U.S. has been represented by Paul Culbertson as charge d'affaires.
The Madrid government is expected to name Jose Felix Lequerica, former Spanish minister as ambassador to Washington.
Lequerica has been in Washington for about two years with the title of "inspector of embassies and legations."

TV CAMERAS SET FOR GHOST

LONDON (Reuter)—British television cameras will try Jan. 10 to pick up the ghost of one of the wives of King Henry VIII. The ghost of Henry's fifth wife, Catherine Howard, is said to drop into Hampton Court Place from time to time. Three television cameras will be set up along Catherine's reported line of march. Said a BBC spokesman: "We're hoping for the best."

Couple more folks claim they saw Caddy yest'iddy. I had a Merry Christmas, too.

Patricias Train In New Korea Camp

Maj. Tighe, Victoria, Directs Move

By BILL BOSS
PUSAN, Korea (CP)—The 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, today took over the area in which it will train until called into action in the Korean war.
Under Maj. Henry Tighe of Victoria, its second-in-command, it established a new camp. At the same time, it completed the outfitting of the men with the equipment with which they will train and fight.
The battalion's sole remaining administrative task before concentrating on battle preparation will be to reduce its kit to the barest essentials, leaving in a rear depot any gear not required.
Then the Canadians will get down to serious training on a program stressing night operations.
Certain members of the 345-man advance party will remain with the 1,000 members of the battalion after the rest of the advance party leaves Korea.
SOON TO SAIL
(An Ottawa dispatch today said the bulk of the 345-man advance party Canada sent to Korea several months ago will sail for home probably within a month, the army said today. This was considered virtual proof that the army no longer expects its 10,000-man Special Force to go to Korea. It clears the way for the force to go to Europe next spring.)
(Appointment of Maj. Geoffrey Brooks of Montreal as deputy assistant adjutant and quartermaster-general of "Canadian Forces, Korea," announced today, means that a small fraction of the advance party will stay in that theatre to handle administrative jobs for the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Robber Made Into 'Milk Icicle'

DETROIT (AP)—A would-be robber turned into a "milk icicle" Tuesday night.
He tried to rob Mrs. Dorothy Kozol while she was returning from a grocery. But Mrs. Kozol slammed a half-gallon milk carton over his head.
The carton broke and milk streamed over his face. In the two-above-zero temperature the milk froze almost instantly.
He fled—without any money.

Korea Reds To Face Blockade, Bombings

At the moment, the United Nations cannot furnish the necessary divisions to counterbalance Chinese and Korean numbers. Therefore it may be necessary to pull out of Korea entirely, although there was no open discussion of this when I left the Orient.
But that will not be the end of the struggle. It will simply enter a new phase.
The full details of the planning for that phase cannot be disclosed now. It is obvious, however, that they call for a naval blockade intensified bombing, and pressure from within Korea through a Korean underground resistance, and by well-supplied patriot guerrilla bands.
WANT FREEDOM
The Koreans—North or South—want their independence. After 40 years of Japanese occupation, they will not willingly accept a Chinese master. They know the Chinese program is to make Korea a vassal state.
So the war will not end if the U.N. army is forced to evacuate Korea. "The pressure will continue, from sea and air, and eventually from the land. Actually, that type of pressure—rather than the use of ground forces—was advocated, early in the war, by some of the best-informed generals. It may become a necessity."

Vancouver Search Party Braves Blinding Storm

VANCOUVER (CP)—In a blinding snowstorm, police and volunteer searchers today sought two missing girls on Mount Seymour.
The hunt for Marilyn Long, 15, and her 13-year-old companion, Frieda Neufeld, is directed by a force of R.C.M.P. officers.
Lightly-clad, the girls have been missing since about noon yesterday when they separated from a Sunday school hiking party near the 3,100-foot level of the mountain.
Skiers, who disregarded pre-dawn darkness, found no trace of the missing pair. A group of army skiers, trained in mountain work, is expected to join in the hunt.
Mount Seymour, on the north shore of Burrard Inlet, is dotted with skiers' cabins where the girls may have sought shelter.
The weather remained comparatively mild, but the snow storm hampered searchers high above the snow line.
Friends said the girls weren't dressed to withstand the night cold. They both wore slacks, low shoes and light coats for the hike.
Parents of the girls participated in the search, along with 14 R.C.M.P. officers and many civilian volunteers. Skiers of the Mount Seymour Ski Club, familiar with the rugged terrain, hunted throughout the night.
CALL ISSUED
North Vancouver R.C.M.P. issued an emergency call for "any available walkie-talkie sets" to assist in the search.
The last persons to see the girls were two hikers, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Protham. They told police they saw the youngsters playing beside a frozen mountain lake.
This was a few minutes after the girls' companions went ahead while Marilyn and Frieda stopped to rest. The other hikers returned to the spot about half an hour later, but the girls had disappeared.

Federal Cabinet Plans Meeting On War Crisis

Officials Will Discuss Korea

OTTAWA (BUP)—The federal cabinet will hold an extraordinary year-end meeting Thursday to discuss Red China's rejection of the United Nations' appeal for a cease-fire in Korea.
It also was reported that the cabinet may raise the armed forces' manpower ceiling by 31,000 men, and fix a date for the opening of the 1951 session of Parliament late in January.
External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson planned to report to his cabinet colleagues on last Saturday's refusal by the Chinese Reds to agree to a cease-fire in Korea.
Pearson so far has declined to comment on the Chinese rejection of the U.N. plea, but said he had discussed the new development by telephone with other members of the U.N. commission. He was expected to relay the gist of these talks to the administration.
The cabinet also was expected to discuss Red China's warning that United Nations' troops will be driven from Korea and Formosa if they are not withdrawn. There was no indication that Pearson would leave Ottawa after the meetings for sessions in New York with other members of the three-man commission. His office staff said, however, that he was ready to leave immediately for New York if the other commission members asked him to go there.

Police Lack Clue In Stone Theft

LONDON (Reuter)—Police today checked a theory that a modern "Bonnie Prince Charlie" led the Christmas Eve raid on Westminster Abbey which netted the ancient Stone of Scone, historic symbol of English monarchy over Scotland.
The 350-pound, 1,000-year-old chunk of rock formed the seat of the ancient wooden throne on which every British king has been crowned since the year 1296 when an English king removed it from Scotland and brought it to England.
Working without a firm clue after three days of combing England, London detectives were investigating possibility that a "woman" known to have been in raiding party was actually a man dressed in woman's clothing.

Chinese Platoon To Fight For U.S.

TOKYO (Reuter)—A platoon of 13 Chinese Communist troops captured in northeast Korea want to join the United States army.
They say they want to start fighting "as soon as possible."
When first captured on the Hungnam beachhead before the Christmas Eve evacuation, the Chinese were indignant. They claimed they had been "unfairly captured" when they were questioned by Maj. Gen. Robert H. Soule, commander of the U.S. 3rd Division, who speaks Chinese.
Though indignant when first questioned, the Chinese, marveling at Soule's command of their language, soon asked if they could join his army and start fighting "as soon as possible."

COMBINED UP, AP DISPATCHES

TOKYO—Spearheads from a 500,000-man Communist invasion army thrust up to seven miles into South Korea and within 27 miles of Seoul today.

Chinese and North Korean combat patrols jabbed at the 8th Army line all along a 90-mile front above Seoul in preparation for an apparently imminent all-out offensive.

The new Allied field commander in Korea set the motto for his troops, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway met President Syngman Rhee of South Korea for the first time and said: "I aim to stay."

Prohibit Recount
In Windsor Vote
Electing Brophy

TORONTO (CP)—An order prohibiting a recount of votes in the recent mayoralty election at Windsor, Ont., was issued today by Justice W. F. Spence of the Supreme Court of Ontario.

In effect, it confirmed the Dec. 6 victory of Thomas E. Brophy over the present mayor, Arthur Reaume, by a margin of 38 votes.

Brophy is scheduled to be sworn in Jan. 2.

An Essex County judge recently granted Mayor Reaume's application for a recount. Brophy, in weekly court here today, sought the order to block the recount.

Justice Spence said that, in his opinion, Mayor Reaume had failed to show justification for a recount.

$75 BILLION BUDGET MAY BE TRUMAN GOAL

WASHINGTON (BUP)—President Truman is expected to call on Congress for a $75,000,000,000 short-of-war budget for 1951-52 year—following his State of the Union message next Wednesday.

Although such a budget would result in a big deficit, Mr. Truman probably will not ask for tax increases next month beyond those already requested.

That does not mean, however, that new and heavier taxes are not in prospect.

Hold-up In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Three masked gunmen held up Rosse's drive-in restaurant here today and escaped with an undetermined amount of loot. Leader of the group was a six-foot-three man weighing about 190 pounds.

Dynamite Ship Off Shore

HALIFAX (CP)—Residents of this explosion-conscious city learned today that two ships, one loaded with 300 tons of dynamite and 35 tons of detonator caps, had run ashore just three miles from the heart of Halifax.

The vessels grounded close to the navy ammunition magazine on the eastern shore of Bedford Basin.

Haligonians, many still bearing the scars of the great explosion of December, 1917, usually hound radio stations and newspaper offices for information when "explosion rumors" are circulating. However, few were aware of the cargo when the latest grounding occurred.

The small freighter Americain, with ammunition aboard, started dragging anchor, and the converted sealing vessel Theron began taking the explosives aboard.

McCARTHY STORY REPEATS

Oil Tycoon 'Furious' As Daughter, 17, Weds

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Millionaire oilman Glenn McCarthy was reported to be "furious" today over the marriage of his 17-year-old daughter to a cobbler's son.

McCarthy, whose fortune has been reckoned at $200,000,000, was a poor boy himself when he eloped 20 years ago with the daughter of an oil millionaire.

However, he curtly refused comment on reports that his daughter, Glenalee, had been married to 19-year-old George Pontikes, a sophomore football player at Rice Institute.

Friends who called at the $700,000 McCarthy mansion Christmas Day said the 43-year-old oil magnate appeared "stunned and at a loss for words."

Young Pontikes and Miss McCarthy were described by friends as former "high school sweethearts" who had kept company "off and on" for four years.

Pontikes first denied he was married to McCarthy's daughter.

However, he weakened when told that Justice of Peace Nash Oliver of Waco, Tex., had confirmed that he had performed the marriage ceremony on Dec. 2.

"ASK HER FATHER"

"Ask her father," the youth said.

It was not clear whether Glenalee, a senior at Lamar High School, was still living with her family. However, it was reported she spent Christmas Day at the Pontikes residence, a small house behind the shoe shop of Angelo Pontikes, the boy's father.

Boy Gets Pup To Replace One Killed

It was a merry Christmas after all for Teddy McDonald, aged 7½, of 2639 Prior Street. Teddy's dog was run over last Thursday and it died the following day. The tragic story of Teddy's loss appeared in Friday's Times. It was read to Billy and Frankie Harding, aged 11 and 7, 1132 Johnson Street, and they decided to give their own pup, Buz, to bring cheer to the other boy. This newspaper helped find where Teddy lived and the new puppy was delivered Christmas Eve.

Mechanical Fault, Icing Conditions Preceded Fatal Crash Of Airliner

(Special To The Times)

VANCOUVER — Commenting on reports that the ill-fated DC-3 airliner which crashed Friday north of Penticton, B.C., had returned here twice before finally making the flight eastward over the mountains, Canadian Pacific Airlines officials today said the first return "was due to a mechanical fault in the Company officials, in recounting the two returns of the flight to Vancouver, added that after the first return the pilot changed aircraft.

Then, on the second flight, the company statement said, icing conditions were encountered by the craft on the west side of the mountains. This caused the pilot to turn back again.

Officials added: "On the third trip the pilot reported, from the air, to a west-bound C.P.A. flight, which had just taken off from Penticton, that the icing conditions which he had first encountered, had cleared up. At the time of the conversation the aircraft was at 15,000 feet, in clear weather and was seen by the west-bound C.P.A. flight."

BOY, 15 MONTHS, ROLLER SKATES, TRIES BOXING

WINNIPEG (CP)—At 15 months, young Darryl Moss is rolling right along.

In fact, he rolls better than he toddles.

Papa John Moss got his son a pair of roller skates six weeks ago, intended as a Christmas present. But he decided to give them ahead of time. So, with less than three months of practice, Darryl had an hour and a quarter workout at a roller rink here recently.

His dad, a keen amateur skater, also has the young fellow going through boxing training. He sits on a kitchen stool at his home, jumps off at the sound of a bell rung by his mother and starts punching with miniature gloves.

McCarthy's riches include vast oil holdings, refineries, a chemical company and the swank new Shamrock Hotel here.

Teen-Agers Safe After Night In Mt. Seymour

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two teen-aged girls missing on snowclad Mount Seymour overlooking eastern Vancouver were found safe and apparently unhurt today.

While ski-troopers combed the rugged mountain in a blinding snowstorm, Marilyn Long, 15, and her 13-year-old companion, Frieda Neufeld, were found near a cabin high up on the slopes.

Dr. W. H. Hatfield, one of the searchers, said he first saw the girls near the cabin but believed they had spent the night in it. They were soaking wet but apparently unharmed.

Searchers had just begun to make a check of all skiers' cabins on the mountain. Apparently the girls had just left the cabin and were starting down the mountain by themselves.

Lightly clad, the girls had been missing since about noon yesterday when they were separated from a Sunday school hiking party near the 3,100-foot level of the mountain.

Cougars—mountain lions which often measure eight feet in length—sometimes stray down from the North Shore Mountains and are shot in backyards. They will attack humans if hungry.

A few volunteer skiers disregarded darkness early today to search the treacherous upper reaches of the mountain.

LIGHTLY DRESSED

Friends said the girls weren't dressed to withstand the cold. They both wore slacks, low shoes and light coats for the hike.

Parents of the girls participated in the search. Skiers of the Mount Seymour Ski Club, familiar with the steep and rugged terrain, said they would press on throughout tonight.

Frieda Neufeld developed a sore foot during the hike and was unable to continue the climb. Marilyn Long stayed with her while the other hikers went on to the peak.

When they returned, about half an hour later, the girls had disappeared.

The last persons to see the girls were Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Protham. They told police they saw the youngsters playing beside a frozen mountain lake.

Allan Long, 13, Marilyn's brother, who also was on the hike, said: "About noon, when we were going up the trail, Marilyn and Frieda got tired and stopped to rest. We got back to the spot on the trail half an hour later, but they weren't there."

King Appeals For Return Of Stone Of Scone

Police Still Lack
Clues In Theft

LONDON (Reuter)—The King is "greatly distressed" by the theft of the Stone of Scone, the chief guardian of the priceless relic said in a radio broadcast tonight.

Dr. Alan C. Don, Dean of Westminster Abbey, in a personal appeal over the BBC, told of the King's reaction to the theft of the stone two days ago. Dr. Don appealed to Britons to "make it a matter of personal concern that the stone should be recovered."

MRS. JULIA SMITH

Smith Family Lays Claim To Record For Most Relatives

True to the name, there is a Smith family in Victoria which claims to have more relatives here than any other.

The Smiths bolster their contention with a few facts and figures:

Topping the list is 82-year-old Mrs. Julia Smith, 2312 Wark Street; then there are her four sons and four daughters here (another is in Blue River, B.C.); 43 grandchildren and 57 great-grandchildren round out the imposing total.

Of course, they are not all named Smith, and the total does not include in-laws.

They are all ages, from the bright-eyed octogenarian to William Smith, her five-months' old great-grandson.

CHRISTMAS BIG TIME

Christmas is the time the relatives try to see one another. It took a grandson two days to take Mrs. Julia Smith around to all the relatives' homes in the city.

Christmas cards for the family are a big chore in themselves, and turkey dinners are held at different homes—a decentralized set-up.

Even identification is tricky sometimes.

"There were about 25 or 30 folks at a time around mother's at Christmas, they kept coming and going. I saw some people I never saw before—one about 16 years old called me uncle, so I guess it was one of the family," said Phillip Smith 1372 Lyall Street, one of the elder Mrs. Smith's sons.

Mr. Smith Sr., who is 84, is in Derbyshire, Eng., but served in the Canadian army in the First World War, leaving Victoria with the 88th Battalion.

His wife, who is remarkably spry for her age lives with one of her daughters, Mrs. J. Ferris. Though she came to this city in 1911 from Woolich, Eng., she has never lost her cockney accent.

"I was married when I was 17—it was April 1, Easter Sunday, I remember," Mrs. Smith said. She had 11 children, but two of the seven daughters are dead. In addition to Mrs. Ferris and Phillip, her children are William, George and Frederick. Mrs. Archie Medd, Mrs. J. Whitty, and Mrs. A. Hughes.

Another daughter, Mrs. J. B. Alexander, lives in Blue River, B.C. scene of the recent troop train wreck.

Korea Reds To Face Blockade, Bombings

Underground Resistance Envisaged If U.N. Armies Forced Off Peninsula

Reisman Morin, a veteran of many special assignments for the Associated Press and correspondent in two wars, has just returned from four months in Japan and Korea.

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—A clear-cut military victory in Korea is out of the question now, for sheer lack of numbers, but the net results of a heart-breaking campaign are better than they appear.

Perhaps they are more apparent on the other side of the Pacific than on this side.

Out there, morale of United Nations troops is good. In neither Korea nor Japan is there any pessimism or despair.

The soldiers are simply mad. They had won the victory. And then, in late November it was snatched away, not by better men with better weapons or better leadership, but simply with greater numbers.

Today the only prospect is for a slow, grinding retreat down the length of Korea. Possibly the allies may be driven off the peninsula entirely. That depends on how many of their best divisions the Chinese Reds are prepared to spend. The cost of such a campaign to the Chinese would be enormous, but political and military observers generally believe Peiping will pay it.

At the moment, the United Nations cannot furnish the necessary divisions to counterbalance Chinese and Korean numbers. Therefore it may be necessary to pull out of Korea entirely, although there was no open discussion of this when I left the Orient.

But that will not be the end of the struggle. It will simply enter a new phase.

The full details of the planning for that phase cannot be disclosed now. It is obvious, however, that they call for a naval blockade intensified bombing, and pressure from within Korea through a Korean underground resistance, and by well-supplied patriot guerrilla bands.

WANT FREEDOM

The Koreans—North or South—want their independence. After 40 years of Japanese occupation, they will not willingly accept a Chinese master. They know the Chinese program is to make Korea a vassal state.

So the war will not end if the U.N. army is forced to evacuate Korea. The pressure will continue, from sea and air, and eventually from the land.

Actually, that type of pressure—rather than the use of ground forces—was advocated, early in the war, by some of the best-informed generals. It may become a necessity.

Island Survivors Of Plane Crash

Mr. and Mrs. John Lipsack of Cowichan Lake presented this appearance to a photographer at the base camp four and one-half miles from the spot where the DC-3 airliner crashed, causing the deaths of the pilot and co-pilot. Mrs. Lipsack received a beautiful shiner in the wreck. They both came out after spending two nights at the crash scene. Fourteen others survived the accident.

THEY DIDN'T KNOW HIM

Visitors See Caddy On Dallas Waterfront

"Caddy" came home for Christmas.

The will-o'-the-wisp marine creature who seems to shun waterfront strollers armed with cameras was seen off Victoria Boxing Day.

And the folks who saw him did not even know it was our sea serpent at the time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Didsbury, 1186 West 11th Avenue, Vancouver, were walking along the waterfront in front of Beacon Hill Park Tuesday when they saw "something waving in the air" about 80 feet off Finlayson Point.

The pair's description of Cadborasaurus was as follows: Long, brownish neck with a mane of some sort near a small head about the same thickness as the neck, about 12 inches.

"Caddy" submerged, then surfaced again 50 yards along. This time, Mr. and Mrs. Didsbury saw that the neck and head were arched and the body seemed bulkier near the middle. They could see three parts of the body, hump-like, with a tapering tail.

The visitors asked another stroller about what they had seen, and then learned it must have been "Caddy."

The Didsburys said they wondered if they should publicize what they had seen in view of skeptical reactions to such reports, especially during the festive season.

Last report of "Caddy" was when a naval officer said the strange marine inhabitant reared up alongside a rowboat in which he was fishing off Esquimalt.

Last February, Chief Justice J. T. Brown of Regina and his wife and daughter said they had spotted "Caddy" off Victoria.

Another Victorian, Albie Davies, reported earlier this year he had been cutting wood on a Dallas Road beach and had watched the creature when it appeared close to shore.

U.S. Army Plans To Call Up 9,650 Officers By March 22

WASHINGTON (UP)—The army planned today to call some 9,650 more reserve lieutenants and captains to active duty by March 22.

The call-up will bring to 27,000 the number of army officers returned to uniform on an individual basis since the Korean war began.

Army spokesmen said most of the new group, including 890 physicians and 850 dentists, are expected to volunteer "as a patriotic service in time of national emergency." They added, however, that mandatory orders will be issued unless enough men volunteer.

The order will affect 5,420 lieutenants, 1,900 captains, 100 Wacs, 165 chaplains and 415 assorted medical specialists in addition to the medical officers. The men will be called from both active and inactive reserve ranks.

'The Body' Is A Little Peeved At Those Cheesecake Roles

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — It's the year of the Big Clam-Up in Hollywood but the flag lettered "The Studio-Knows Best" isn't flying from Marie McDonald's hacienda.

Marie, who doesn't want to play Johnny Belinda or Harpo Marx, is downright fazed-off about movie moguls who take one look at her structure and pass on that script she's drooling over-to-somebody-like Jennifer Jones.

It gets up her Yankee Doodle Dander.

Marie glowered and howled:

"They say that I'm very, very sexy and that the character is an average, everyday girl. That burns me up. I want to say, 'Whassa matter? Didn't you ever see an average, everyday girl with a 37½-inch bust?'"

"Instead I point out that Ida Lupino and Jane Wyman were once hunks of cheesecake, too. Then they give me the talk about girls with beautiful faces never getting into trouble."

"That's a laugh. I tell them to look at the newspapers. Those girls in trouble don't look like dogs."

Movie producers still see her draped on a silken couch.

"It's been happening ever since a press agent dubbed her 'The Body' to perk up the publicity campaign for a movie titled, 'Guest In The House.'"

"If I ever get hold of that press agent . . . Marie blazed. 'Not that I wasn't highly flattered at first. I glowed inwardly about the whole thing. Then I ran into casting trouble and realized what a big bubble of nothing it was.'"

Unexpected Gallantry

Kathryn Grayson seems surprised at Mario Lanza's unexpected gallantry in this scene from "The Toast of New Orleans." M-G-M's new Technicolor musical now showing at Royal Theatre. David Niven also stars in melody-filled story of fisherman who falls in love with opera star.

HOLLYWOOD REVIEW

Film Industry Completes Another Stormy 12 Months

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Another stormy year for Hollywood is drawing to a close.

The movie industry, which hasn't had it easy in the years since the Second World War, took another buffeting in 1950. This was the year when names like Ingrid Bergman, Senator Johnson, Judy Garland, Ava Gardner and Frank Sinatra made news that didn't help Hollywood.

It was also a year in which cupid took an unprecedented beating. The divorce news included such stellar attractions as Betty Hutton, Elizabeth Taylor, Bette Davis, Myrna Loy, Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor, Marie Wilson, Linda Darnell, Kathryn Grayson, Dan Dailey, Groucho Marx, Frank Sinatra, etc.

And there was a nasty thing called "television" to bedevil the industry.

But, troubles aside, here is how the year looks to this observer in my annual selection of the Hollywood highs and lows:

Best pictures: "All About Eve," "Sunset Boulevard," "The Asphalt Jungle," "The Third Man," "King Solomon's Mines."

Biggest flop: "Stromboli."

Most over-rated news story: The Judy Garland throat-nicking.

Best female performances: Bette Davis, "All About Eve"; Gloria Swanson, "Sunset Boulevard"; Judy Holliday, "Born Yesterday"; Anne Baxter, "All About Eve"; Josephine Hull, "Harvey."

Best male performances: Jose Ferrer, "Cyrano De Bergerac"; Killiam Holden, "Sunset Boulevard"; Louis Calhern, "The Magnificent Yankee"; Gregory Peck, "The Gunfighter"; James Stewart, "Broken Arrow."

LOUIE HOPALONG

The comic strip is divided into two rows of five panels each.

Top Row:

- Panel 1: A sign on a door reads "ACE DEBT COLLECTING AGENCY" and "LOUIE".
- Panel 2: Louie is sitting at a desk inside the agency, looking bored.
- Panel 3: Two men, EZ Finkler and Calico, are walking towards the agency. EZ is wearing a shirt that says "EZ FINKLER COLLECTS".
- Panel 4: The men are standing in front of the agency door.
- Panel 5: Louie is sitting on a bench outside, looking dejected.

Bottom Row:

- Panel 6: A man on a horse is talking to another man. The man on the horse says, "AND I'M JUST AS RELIEVED TO SEE THAT YOU'RE STILL HOLDING OFF THAT SULPHUR CITY CROWD SAGEBUSH." The other man says, "WOO! I'M SURE." and "I'M A FRIEND.".
- Panel 7: A man is talking to a woman. The man says, "HOWDY, MISS CALICO." The woman says, "ACE KILGORE.".
- Panel 8: A man is talking to a woman. The man says, "I HARDLY EXPECTED TO FIND ONE OF SULPHUR CITY'S BADMEN HERE." The woman says, "W-H-W-H-A-T'S THAT?".

YOU LET THE LION ESCAPE?!

HE SAID HE WAS JUST GOING FOR A GLASS OF WATER. HE NEVER CAME BACK!

YOU WERE SUPPOSED TO BE GUARDING HIM! WHY DIDN'T YOU GO WITH HIM WHEN HE WENT FOR A DRINK?

I WASN'T THIRSTY

BUT NEVER FEAR, YOUR ROYALNESS... I'VE SET A TRAP FOR THE MON!

DO YOU THINK IT WILL HOLD HIM?

I BAITED IT WITH LIMBURGER CHEESE. IF THE TRAP DOESN'T CATCH HIM, AT LEAST THE SMOKE MIGHT KEEP HIM AWAY FROM THE CASTLE.

CANADA SAFEWAY LIMITED

By RED SMITH

NEW YORK—While this wayfarer was off in Texas killing everything but American letters—the oversight will be remedied at home—the baseball owners were drawing a bead on more elusive game. The wings who brought Happy Chandler down out of the empyrean made an important score, but somehow they failed to let the public understand what all the shooting was about.

Not everybody who observed Col. Chandler's performance as baseball commissioner rated him a small-bore politician sputtering and fretting like a self-important frog beside a small pond, or swimming pool. Some considered him the biggest thing since the invention of indoor plumbing. And those who held the latter view looked with suspicion upon the minority vote which unseated baseball's little king. (Do not, by the way, underestimate the power of a minority vote; that's how President Truman got elected.)

Neglecting to explain why they repudiated Chandler, the baseball people left it up to the fans to interpret the action to their own satisfaction. Many believe that the owners sought a change because they wanted the office occupied by somebody they could shove around.

Tough Only In Spots

That isn't so at all. Chandler wasn't dumped because he was tough. As commissioner, he got tough only in spots when his opponent—in the parlance of the fight mob—wore handcuffs. A case in point was his suspension of Leo Durocher, one of the hired help, who was in no position to hit back no matter how great his provocation.

Baseball survived almost a quarter of a century under one of the toughest old roosters that ever ruled a coop—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis. Old Gimlet-Eye made mistakes sometimes, was often unreasonable and sometimes unfair. But the owners and the ball players and public had a deep and abiding faith in his integrity, and so they went along with him.

You'd have thought that Chandler's experience in politics would have taught him that there could be such a thing as detached, dispassionate criticism. It taught him no such thing. From the outset, he split the baseball press into two groups: Those who wrote flattering pieces about him were "decent" sports writers; those who took an independent and sometimes unfavorable view of his performance were not "decent." The adjective is his. He implied that the indecent ones were in the pay of some shadowy and unidentified group opposed to him.

Pork Barrel Politics

All his rulings as baseball commissioner were based on the same guiding principle.

Seven of the 16 club owners opposed Chandler's re-election. They were willing to be governed by a tough commissioner and they did not expect infallibility in the office. But they did demand impartiality. For the sake of public confidence in the game, they ought to make their position clear, so the fans won't suspect them of trying to get the cop off the beat while they robbed a poorbox.

Fired For Good Cause

Already there has developed a tendency to picture Chandler as the martyred victim of selfish, unpatriotic and even dishonest motives. Ridiculous assertions have been made that: (a) he was fired because of his casual remark that total mobilization for war would force baseball to suspend operations; (b) his defeat was engineered by a coalition of gamblers and sports writers.

When is somebody going to explain that he was dumped because he did a lousy job?

With regard to his successor, most of the individuals named as possibilities thus far are politicians. One would think the owners would be fed up with politicians by now. One name which persistently recurs on the list is Happy Chandler. Could any man be so lacking in pride as to accept reappointment after such repudiation?

FIREMEN MAY COME

Coast Soccer Changes Likely For Next Year

The team, which shook the very foundations of the Pacific Coast Soccer League will be seen in action here soon.

Vancouver Firemen of the Vancouver and District League will meet Victoria United in an early exhibition game, according to United officials. The Firemen upset the soccer picture on the mainland and delighted the packed stands with a recent 4 to 1 decision over the P.C.S.L. leader, Vancouver City.

This proof of V. & D. quality did more than anything else to bring about the promotion and relegation system which has now been okayed by both leagues. Next year the top V. & D. team will play the bottom P.C.S.L. team for a place in the Pacific Coast League roster. In addition, Coast League badgers have approved the outright entry of two unnamed V. & D. teams into the senior circuit. One is almost certain to be the powerful Firemen's squad.

PROTESTS COMING

A Vancouver report indicates that protests to the Dominion Football Association will almost certainly be made concerning the raiding tactics adopted by New Westminster.

The Royal City club is seeking to beat the transfer deadline by drawing players from other teams in the league. Ivan Carr, Gogie Stewart and Joe Jordan of Vancouver City have signed with Royals, and it is known that other players have been approached, including three Victoria United men.

To stop the raiding, the Coast League executive has recommended that players signed by a team as of Aug. 15 remain the property of that team until May 15 of the following year.

TENNIS TIGRESSES

Lace Vs. Leopard Skin In Moran-Addie Match

Pauline Betz Addie, four times winner of the United States women's singles championship,

Wimbledon queen in 1946, and holder of a half-dozen other U.S. indoor and clay court titles, is the tigress Gorgie Gussie Moran is going to try to tame when Bobby Riggs' colorful tennis troupe invades Victoria Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Addie, one of the most versatile feminine athletes in the United States in many years, is also an excellent golfer and outstanding table tennis player, her friends point out.

In her school days, she also played basketball, hockey, and softball. She attended Rollins College, Fla., incubator of many another fine feminine tennis player.

Pauline, who deserted the amateurs in 1946 and married Bob Addie, Washington, D.C. sports writer, now in the Marines, decided to join the play-for-play tour when her hubby marched off to Korea.

Maestro Riggs decided she didn't have the color of a Moran. So she will be outfitted in a leopard skin when she takes on Gussie here. Gorgie Gussie will have her lace, of course, when she takes the court at the Badminton Hall with Pauline and Jack Kramer and Pancho Segura.

Commercial League Goalies Good Divers

Goalie Jack Walker of Co-Ops drops on the puck as Douglas Tire forwards swoop in on him in Tuesday's Commercial Hockey League fixture. Walker was beaten only twice, while his Co-Op teammates drove five counters past Ab Ellis in the Tire goal to maintain their leadership of the league.

Ski Students Getting Ready To Try School

First sessions of ski school, set for the lower Crystal Garden ballroom at 7.30 in the evening, Jan. 3 will reveal muscles that novice skiers never knew they owned.

A syllabus of exercises, published by Pro Rec. answers most of the questions being asked by curious prospects for the weekly training periods.

Skiers are called upon to use muscle groups which ordinarily get little or no exercise, and it is important that newcomers to the sport participate in a special course of physical jerks to minimize danger of strain.

STRENUOUS CURRICULUM

Generally speaking, the training consists of exercises which incorporate actual ski movements, including toeing in and toeing out, knee and ankle bobs, leg twisting, waist twists, stomach dips and push-ups.

The "leg abduction" exercise really has nothing to do with kidnapping somebody's lower extremities, no indeed; it is described in the syllabus as "standing on one foot, slowly raise the other leg the waist-high position, then lower."

A stomach-dip is similar to a push-up, except that you push up your hips instead of your shoulders, if that is clear.

Pro Rec chief instructor Ed Kelter stresses, however, that the course is tailored to the needs of all ages. There is no time limit on getting your stomach up off the floor, just as long as you try.

The "dry" school will last at least four weeks possibly longer, and will parallel actual ski instruction to be given in the field when regular trips to Brenton are arranged.

TIME OUT! By Jeff Keale

"Now in learning to ski, Mr. Threebody, the first requisite is self-confidence!"

First Half Soccer Playoffs Scheduled For New Year's Day

Soccer fans, robbed this week end when bad weather caused postponement of every scheduled game are promised a full slate for the New Year holidays—provided the weatherman will co-operate.

Playoffs for the first half will get started New Year's Day when Esquimalt meet Duncan

NORM JONES, clever Navy goalie, smothered a rebound on a long, hard shot from the blue line by Ron Brenner of Capitals in Commercial Hockey League action Tuesday. Defenceman Johnson is coming in to clear. Navy lost the close game 2 to 0. In the second game of the afternoon Civil Service clipped Meteors 4 to 2.

Leger Fined, Suspended For Attack On Powers

To Make Complete Investigation Of Incident, Says Leader; Strongman May Play Here Friday

The announcement from Pacific Coast Hockey League president Al Leader Tuesday that coach Roger Leger of the Cougars had been fined $200 and suspended indefinitely was tempered somewhat today when it was learned that captain Bernie Strongman may return to active duty Friday night.

Leger was fined and suspended for his attack on referee Eddie Powers in Monday's game with Portland at the Memorial Arena. The suspension will stand until a complete investigation is made, Leader said.

Strongman, who has been out of the line-up for the past three weeks with a broken bone in his foot, is scheduled to see the club physician Thursday. If X-rays show the injured foot to be healed, he will be in uniform against the Ironmen.

No announcement was forthcoming from general manager Fred Hutchinson as to who would run the club in Leger's absence.

Canucks Nip Portland; Draw Even With Cougars

Switching teams doesn't bother Norm Kirk's ability to score goals. He proved that last night. Kirk, sold yesterday to Vancouver, was in the Canucks' line-up as they edged Portland Eagles 2 to 1 in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game to move into a fourth-place tie with Victoria Cougars.

The sharpshooter, who spent the last two and a half years with New Westminster Royals, got the first goal of the battle at 5.10 of the second period. Bill Shill got the other for Vancouver.

New Westminster discarded Kirk because of his inability to get along with coach Babe Pratt.

Summary follows:
First Period—No scoring. Penalty: Conway.
Second Period—1, Vancouver, Kirk (Unger, Shill), 5:10; 2, Vancouver, Shill

Williams Picked As Greatest Track Star

Double Olympic Champion Almost Unanimous Choice

This story is one of a Canadian Press series on outstanding Canadian sports figures, teams and events in the first half of the century. Selections were made in a poll of Canadian sports editors and sportscasters.

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Percy Williams, Canada's only double Olympic winner and a kid whose sprinting style violated every principle of the game, today was named Canada's outstanding track and field performer of the last 50 years. His choice was almost unanimous.

Balloting in the Canadian Press half-century poll, sports editors and sportscasters tossed the mark on Williams and shot him to the front from here to there over London's Bob McFarlane, in the runner-up slot, and former greats such as Bobby Kerr of Hamilton, who won the 200 metres in the 1908 Olympics, and the late Tom Longboat, peerless Indian marathoner. Williams' total vote was 30 against McFarlane's four.

Percy, now 41, a bachelor and a Vancouver insurance salesman, is only 13 pounds heavier than he was in those track-pounding days of 1928 when his flying feet carried him into the headlines of the world's newspapers.

Canadians were stunned and joyful July 29, 1928, when the news came from Amsterdam that their 19-year-old, curly-headed pride and joy had won the 100 metres in 10.8 seconds. But that was only the beginning. Three days later the Canadian schoolboy whipped the world's best in the 200 in 21.8, establishing himself the second double Olympic sprint winner since 1912.

The kid with the twisted grin and the appeal of a movie matinee idol returned home to an excited populace. Years later, his track days over, he confided to friends that the Amsterdam jaunt was "just another track meet—it didn't seem any more important than any other meet until we got home and found out what it meant to people."

WORLD BOWLING CHAMPION

Third place in the poll went to Walter Knox, all-round athlete from Orillia, Ont., who started his championship career in 1900 and during the next 20 years won more than 400 first prizes, 126 second and almost 100 thirds. He won the all-round professional track and field championship of North America in 1913, taking seven of 10 events, including the shot put, discus throw and hammer throw.

The next year he won the world championship in a match at Manchester, Eng.

HOLD BOWLING PARTY

The Esquimalt P.T.A. Bowling League held a Christmas party at the Esquimalt Bowladrome recently. Prizes for the "hidden" scores were won by Mrs. L. Matheson, Mrs. R. Putt, Mrs. N. Fildes, J. Wallach, F. Fairless and S. Briggs. Consolation prizes went to Mrs. A. Bates and H. Booth.

Australia Captures Second Test Victory

MELBOURNE (Reuter)—Australia went two up today in the best-of-five cricket Test series, defeating England in the second Test here by 28 runs.

Victoria Vics Hope To Whip Nanaimo Six

Victoria Vics will be out to revenge a stinging reverse when they meet Nanaimo in a Vancouver Island Junior Hockey League fixture at Memorial Arena tonight at 9.

Vic suffered their first defeat of the season when they lost 2 to 1 to the up-landers Saturday.

Tonight's game, previously billed as a Vics-Navy tilt, will give Nanaimo an opportunity to show that Saturday's win was no accident.

The Navy team, which has been idle over the holidays, tied Kerrisdale Junior Monarchs, considered the class of the main-land, in a 3-2 victory at the main-land arena last week.

Elks Nip Vernon In Overtime Tilt

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—A near-capacity crowd Tuesday watched Vernon Canadians build up a 5 to 2 lead over the Kamloops Elks at the end of the second period.

Thirty minutes later the fans trekked homeward bewildered by the 7 to 5 defeat Paul Thompson's Elks handed the fading Canadians.

For two periods, the Canucks had the Elks in the palms of their hands. They led 4 to 1 at the end of the first and each club scored one in the second. In the third the Elks snapped in three goals in 13 minutes to force the deadlock.

In the overtime, Elks were by far the masters with two goals, while continuing to hold Vernon scoreless.

England, needing 179 to win, was put out for 150 in the second innings on a fast pitch. The match provided even greater thrills than the first Test, which Australia won by 70 runs.

Yorkshire's Len Hutton was the hero of the English team today. He played a masterly innings of 40 on a pitch which no batsman could trust. While Australian captain, Lindsay Hassett, set an attacking field against the other batsmen, he reverted to defence when Hutton faced the bowling.

The scoreboard follows:

Australia: First innings 194; second 150.
England: First innings 197; second 150.
R. T. Simpson, b Lindwall 23
C. Washbrook, b Iverson 3
T. E. Bailey, b Ian Johnson 9
L. Hutton, c Lindwall, b Bill Johnston 40
J. G. Dwyer, c Harvey, b Iverson 3

Total 150
Bowling: Lindwall, 3 for 29; Miller, 0 for 16; Ian Johnson, 1 for 24; Iverson, 2 for 36; Bill Johnston, 4 for 26.
Australia won by 28 runs.

Quakers Tighten Playoff Grip

SASKATOON (CP)—Saskatoon Quakers strengthened their playoff position here yesterday by downing the cellar-dwelling Regina Capitals, 5 to 1, in a Western Canada Senior Hockey League game before 4,000 Boxing Day fans.

The win left the third-place Quakers 13 points ahead of Regina and only four points behind the runner-up Calgary Stampede.

Al Staley, Herb Lovett, Cy Rouse, Bill Heindl and Ken Hunter scored for the winners, while Vic Myles notched the lone Regina goal in the final period.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor.

A short chunky individual wearing dark glasses and an orange tie (those who thought it was yellow were probably suffering from Christmas hallucinations) enjoyed a brief moment of glory at the Memorial Arena Monday afternoon.

Called upon to guide the Cougars' destiny when coach Roger Leger was banished for an unprovoked attack on referee Eddie Powers early in the first period, Don Webster took over as coach, pro-tem if you like, but coach nevertheless, and did a marvellous job.

Don is the "holler" type of a hockey player. He's always yapping on the ice and he was yapping in the players' box Monday as he drove the Cougars to their first victory in almost a year and a-half over the Portland Eagles.

But there was another scene being enacted at the arena that may have gone unnoticed especially by those sitting on the east side of the building.

Shortly after Leger received his game-misconduct penalty, a tall grey-haired figure of a man, best known as "Silver Fox," appeared alongside the Cougar bench.

In An Advisory Capacity

He imparted a few words of wisdom into Webster's ear. Then he disappeared only to reappear a moment later in the runway leading to the players' dressing-rooms. This procedure he kept repeating for the remainder of the first period and practically all the second stanza, meanwhile burning several cigarettes to the limit of their usability.

And also for the first time in two years, Lester Patrick went into the dressing room between periods and read the riot act to the players. The results were evident as Webster and Patrick, between them, drove the Cougars to victory.

There has been much said in the past few days about the refereeing of Eddie Powers but in partial defence of the official something should be explained.

Powers is only as human as the fans, the greater majority of the fans, and regardless of the feeling of the three of four per cent of hockey public, who by their actions inflame the players to deeds of violence, he should be protected.

The 'Real' Fans Could Help

This minority only spoils the game for those who want to see hockey.

Certainly we like to see the Cougars win as much as the fans do, but such action as casting vituperative remarks in the direction of the referee and the players, yes, the players, should be reported at once by the "real" fans, who greatly outnumber these apparent misfits.

Not only that, but throwing debris on the ice as a means of personal vindictiveness against the official in charge should not go unpunished or unreported. But this is a matter for the fans, who usually are the only ones in a position to see the culprit or incarnations responsible. The proper procedure is to report such actions immediately to the nearest usher.

Pacific Coast Hockey League referees may not be of the highest calibre but just because an official sees fit to penalize a "home" player it does not necessarily follow that he is always "picking" on the home club. It takes a majority vote of the six teams to rule out any official regardless of how often he is reported as being incompetent.

Players Are Human, Too

It's all very nice and sweet when the home team wins, but why should an official receive all the blame when we lose? It's not always his fault. We'll grant that all penalties are not deserved, but on the other hand how many infractions go unnoticed. And it isn't always the visiting team that gets the so-called break in the officiating.

Still on this "human" angle, did it ever occur to those fans who persist in inciting the players to such acts of vindictiveness against the officials that they are only contributing to the problem. These persons should remember that they can carry a team to great heights but they can also help a club to its downfall.

The Cougars proved on Monday that they can control their feelings. They rode out a wild first period in which they were hardly the most gentlemanly players in the league and then came back with a brilliant display in the final two periods. There was no referee baiting then. The referee has no axe to grind and will, to the best of his ability, officiate in an impartial manner.

Perhaps the fans could do the same.

CUP GAME POSTPONED

May Schedule Rugger For New Year's Day

Disappointed rugby fans were sent home from Macdonald Park Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 when it was announced that North Shore All Blacks had failed to arrive from Vancouver for the game. The Shores had been scheduled to meet Victoria Crimson Tide in the second game of the McKeechle Cup series.

Fog in Vancouver, which grounded all aircraft, was given as the reason for the non-arrival of the mainland team.

At an executive meeting set for this evening, Victoria Rugby Union officials will try to make arrangements for the game to be played New Year's Day.

Monarchs Blow 4-Goal Lead

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Nelson Maple Leafs erupted with six goals, three within a space of 34 seconds in the final period, to edge Kerrisdale Monarchs 6 to 5 last night in an inter-league game.

The best home crowd of the season saw the visitors carry a commanding 5 to 1 lead into the last five minutes of the game when the Leafs caught fire to rap home five goals in as many minutes.

FINDLER, SPRY TO JOIN ROYALS

Victoria United are losing two of their mainland players. Jack Spry and Bob Findler have decided to return to the reorganized New Westminster Royals, and they have sent their transfer forms to United for their release.

Spry and Findler did not show up at United's last match against North Shore. Spry, who has played in every other match since signing for United in October, will be missed in the United attack, where he met with great success. Findler had played only as a substitute.

No Contenders Listed Among Heavyweights

WASHINGTON (UP)—The National Boxing Association, in its final 1950 ratings, could find no logical contender today for Ezzard Charles' heavyweight crown, and threatened to crack down on at least two other champions if they do not defend their titles soon.

"Charles has proved to be a fighting champion," said chairman Fred J. Saddy of the N.B.A.'s championship committee in recognizing the Cincinnati negro as supreme in his division. "He is worthy of the title and ready at all times to meet all comers."

Joe Louis, who held the title from 1937 to 1949 but was out-pointed by Charles in a 15-round comeback attempt, Sept. 27, was listed merely as an "outstanding boxer" along with Lee Savold of Paterson, N.J.

Saddy also said he will ask the N.B.A. executive committee to vacate the titles now held by light-heavyweight Joey Maxim of Cleveland and lightweight Ike Williams of Trenton, N.J., unless they defend their crowns by March 1, 1951.

No Canadians were mentioned in the champion, logical contender or outstanding boxer divisions.

Stamps Blank Flyers As New Arena Opened

CALGARY (BUP)—The Calgary Stampede opened their new $1,500,000 arena last night with a 5-to-0 victory over the pace-setting Edmonton Flyers of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League.

It was the second straight victory for the Stamps over the truck-injured Edmonton club during the Christmas holiday. They downed the Flyers 4 to 2 at Edmonton on Saturday.

The win left the Stampede nine points behind the Flyers and four ahead of the third-place Saskatoon Quakers.

Monarchs Edge Junior Canadians

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Monarchs Tuesday downed Montreal Canadiens, 3 to 1, in a hard-fought junior hockey exhibition before about 2,000 Boxing Day fans.

Monarchs hold down second place in the Manitoba Junior League. Canadiens, defending Memorial Cup champions, hold a similar position in the Quebec loop.

Columnist Bobby Rosenfeld Named Top Woman Athlete

TORONTO (CP)—Bobbie Rosenfeld, a gal who now tosses quips as well as she used to curve a discus, last night was chosen Canada's outstanding all-round woman athlete of the last 50 years.

The great track, basketball, ice hockey and softball star of 25 years ago who doesn't look a day of it, was chosen by the toughest jury possible—sports writers like herself and radio station sportscasters.

Their opinion in a Canadian Press poll was that no woman athlete has surpassed her in the last 50 years. The announcement was made on Bobbie's birthday—but she didn't say which one.

For the Russian girl who came to Canada as a youngster,

Victoria Jockey Among The Best

Ted Johnson, Canada's second leading jockey in the current racing season, is home in Victoria for the Christmas holidays. The 24-year-old capital city boy who learned his trade at the old Willows track had 89 winners this year. He is shown up on Bold Pebble of the Valley Farm Stables.

Leather Pushers Show Promise

Boxing fans got an excellent preview of what is in store in the Silver Gloves when they attended the amateur card staged by the City Police Club at Prince Robert House last night.

Kerwin Johnson, last year's winner of the 100-pound title, was seen in a punishing four-round, no-decision bout with Fred Curtis, runner-up in the same class at Vancouver.

Both boys now fight at 118 pounds and show plenty of ring wisdom and willingness to mix. Although the bout had been billed as an exhibition, Curtis was smeared with claret from a bloody nose at the finish, and both fighters were marked from the stiff pounding they took.

Johnson, the more aggressive, appeared to have better style, but Curtis boasted a lethal right that scored frequently on his rugged City Police Club opponent.

EIGHT BOUTS

Plenty of action was offered the fistclut patrons in the seven bouts which preceded the main event.

Two 85-pounders, Bill McKay and Jimmy Goeghan, led off in a furious set-to. The chunky Goeghan, a serious stylist, was a popular winner when the decision of the judges gave him an edge over the rangier but obviously less-experienced McKay.

The second contest was stopped by the referee when two-fisted Roy Daggett had Don Ethall in real trouble in the last round. Daggett, who had been pushing the fighting all the way, stepped up the pace terrifically in the final stanza and dazed his opponent with a rain of rights and lefts.

Bobby McKinnon, a newcomer from the City Police Club, was no match for Wilf Humphrey of Esquimalt in a 90-pound contest. The solid-built McKinnon mixed it willingly with the rangier Humphrey and got a big hand at the final bell when he crossed the ring to congratulate his opponent on winning the decision.

BANTAMS POPULAR

Evan Mitchell copped a close decision over his Esquimalt stable mate Bill Holland in an 80-pound fixture. Mitchell was very effective with a left that piled up points as he consistently put it in Holland's face.

Probably the most enjoyable fight of the evening was a sizzling three-rounder between two 50-pound mighty midgets. Bill Knowles and George McKay of Esquimalt, showed first-class training that sat oddly on their young shoulders. A propensity for clinching and hitting on the breaks lost the decision for Knowles.

Another Esquimalt-City Police contest brought together Bert Belfie and Brian McAdoo. Both boys showed a little stage fright in their first appearance before

Tiremen Tipped Off Top Of Monday Night Ladder

Commercial League hockey's hard-riding knights of the ice lanes proved yesterday that Christmas festivities had interfered not a whit with their ability to absorb or hand out punishment, or to score goals.

Jim Neilson's smart Coop team showed themselves the class of the league again with a well-earned 5 to 2 victory over Douglas Tire, who have been pushing hard for top spot.

In the second session Meteors and Civil Service put on one of the cleanest displays of hockey

	W	L	T	Pts

Civil Service	6	4	1	38
Capitals	4	5	1	23
Gladwell Meteors	2	2	2	24
Navy	3	7	0	21

seen in the rink this year, with the government men getting a 4 to 2 nod over Gladwells.

The final game was no anticlimax. An inspired Capitals team shut out Navy 2 to 0, to push the Sailors another notch down the ladder and earn themselves new respect from the fans.

FIRST STRING HOT

Co-ops big offensive trio, Ed Varga Max Swanson and Norm Lacree, shared scoring honors with a goal and an assist apiece, after the opener had been supplied by Bill Chisholm from Pel Bertrand. The other Co-op marker was chalked up by playing coach Jim Neilson, who scored on a solo rush late in the third period.

Douglas Tire's Ritchie-Gunter-Andrejkew line was held to a singleton, scored by Ritchie with assists by his team mates. Doug Grant supplied the only other Tire goal, taking his time on a one-man break and tricking Jack Walked neatly on the shot.

The game was tight hockey through the first two periods, with Douglas Tire down 2 to 0 going into the third.

HARRIS IS HERO

Steve Harris played the lead role in the dramatic Civil Service-Gladwells encounter. Harris suffered a head cut from a high stick before the game had been under way half a minute. The Civil Service forward was rushed to hospital for attention while Meteors' Norbury served a major for being on the business end of the stick.

Harris returned to the ice, stitches and all, to make a big contribution to the Civil Service victory and scored the final goal of the game.

Corby opened the scoring unassisted after one minute of play in the second period. Little Jimmy Gallant replied for Meteors two minutes later and Ethier put the motormen ahead 2 to 1 with a clean solo effort at the halfway mark. In the third period the deskmen took command, Coulter, Hallam and Harris scoring without a reply from Gladwells.

Two accidents marred the game. A youngster got a hard bump from a flying puck that went over the boards in the first period, and Gladwells goalie Archie Sholes had to be taken out for repairs with only a few minutes left when he was clipped by a stick while diving for the puck.

BRENNER SINKS NAVY

Ron Brenner, playing inspired hockey for the Capitals' punch line, was the chief reason for the Navy drawing a blank in the nightcap, with assists by line-mates Burrows and Benthon.

STEWART INJURED

DETROIT (AP)—X-rays disclosed Tuesday that left winger Gaye Stewart of Detroit Red Wings suffered a fractured bone in his right hand in the National League hockey game here Monday against New York Rangers. Stewart was injured in the third period of the game which Detroit won 4 to 1.

EX-SUFFERERS CELEBRATE WITH SARNAK PARTY

Group of people relieved of suffering by Sarnak celebrating in Toronto hotel.

A Toronto hotel was recently the scene of an unusual party. A group of people got together to celebrate. What were they celebrating? Why the fact that each one of them had been relieved of suffering by taking a new medicine named Sarnak.

Two of the group had suffered rheumatic and arthritic pains in the arms and legs. One man had been troubled for years with a minor kidney symptom which forced him to get up often during the night, another had suffered with nervous

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Childless 23 Years, Wife Of Doctor Asks Slant On Husband's Sentimental Interest In Longtime Office Girl

Dear Mary Haworth: My doctor husband is a general practitioner in our small town, and he has his office in our house. We have been married 23 years. We have no children. I have worked very hard with my home and church and clubs to further my husband's interests.

For some time John has been finding fault with my cooking and other things I know I do well. In short, I cannot please him any more. He doesn't care if we never see anyone socially, and when he's not busy in the evenings he just goes to bed and leaves me sitting up.

He has an office girl, now 28, who has been with him about seven years. He spends an endless amount of time talking over the girl's affairs with her, straightening out any difficulties for her, and I have come upon them when she was literally crying on his shoulder. At his suggestion we've taken her with us many times on social excursions; have introduced her to men and have fed her and her boy friends.

WIFE DOES NOT FEEL DESPERATE

She has her morning coffee when we have our breakfast, and more coffee several times during the day. John's only interest seems to be in insuring her every comfort. Talking to him about all this just makes him angry; and of course in his eyes I'm the jealous wife. I have kept my figure and look 35 instead of almost 50. I am considered attractive and people like me. But what's wrong?

I am not possessive and I try to do as John wishes. But I feel I am getting the brush-off and I don't like it. I am not desperate but would appreciate your viewpoint. I don't relish by own reflections at this time. C. D.

MAN'S DUBIOUS SHOWS ANXIETY

Dear C. D.: When you take John to task about his unseemly sentimental coddling of Betty (let's call her), he gets angry involuntarily, as a defensive reaction, because he feels guilty and anxious about the triangle. His conscience—or his sense of "what people would say"—tells him that his conduct is censurable. But on the other hand, he feels that both you and Betty mean too much to him, in entirely different ways, for him to dispense with either relationship. Maybe he hasn't thought it through, but that is the gist of his conflicted emotional drive.

It appears that Betty has intercepted the love that John once gave you. In consequence, the emotional climate of your marriage has cooled to mutual indifference, I think; for it is my impression that you've never felt very intensely about him. That is, you probably never were head-over-heels "in love" with him, in the yearning Romeo-Juliet manner. And I doubt that you've ever loved him truly—i.e., with warm-hearted acceptance of his personality; his special combination of needs and virtues and shortcomings.

The very candor of John's endless attention to Betty nowadays suggests that he must have been an ardently attentive suitor and tenderly thoughtful husband in relation to you, in other years. This is his way of reaching out for psychological closeness to the person he loves; and I gather you've always been more strongly self-reliant in attitude, than eager for—or seemingly needy of—that kind of coddling. That's where you differ from Betty. She eats it up. She campaigns for it, encourages John to play God in her affairs, and by her leaner attitude gives his ego a great puff.

WIFE'S ATTITUDE IS TOO SUPERIOR

It is my guess that Betty's parasitical technique hooks John chiefly because it makes him feel superior to her, whereas with you he may have felt apologetically inferior, vaguely incompetent, by comparison. Perhaps he has long assumed that he might have been a failure, professionally or economically, if it weren't for your strong enterprise in organizing community support for him—building for him a clientele, and personal prestige, in church and club and social circles. Or perhaps this has been more your conviction than his—and if so, it would leave him even more vulnerable to Betty's clinging-vine tactics.

Even now it appears that you are striving to maintain an aloof superior attitude towards the problem of John's involvement with Betty. Though you hint at wry displeasure, you aren't desperate, you say. Why not? It is hardly human to be so bland in the circumstances. I should think you'd be suffering greatly, from inner loneliness, rage at the interloper, etc., if your husband means something to you. The fact that you fancy yourself to be emotionally above the storm suggests that you are unconsciously steeled against caring deeply for anybody—doubtless for fear of getting hurt. And probably this is "what's wrong" in the conjugal relationship.

M. H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail, or personal interview. Write her in care of the Times.

Dust off your very best relish dish and keep it well filled during the holidays. Guests love "nibble food." Here's a delectable quartet and a colorful one, too: pickled cocktail onions, raw carrot sticks, radish roses and shiny ripe olives. The trick of keeping ripe olives shiny is to roll them in a few drops of oil. The gloss never disappears.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

Every mother tends to bewail those days in which the children are forced to stay in the house because of inclement weather. Whatever the amusements they soon grow stale and the children become whiny and fractious because they lack enough imaginative or active games in which to engage.

The older child might well be dressed suitably and sent out to wrestle with the elements, always an exciting pastime. Parents should beware of being too afraid of cold or ice or snow or rain. These are challenges to the healthy child and he should have the opportunity to meet them. If he gets cold or wet these situations are easily corrected when he comes in the house.

For the smaller child who must be protected Mrs. C. B. writes, "Recently a friend of mine commented that she was a nervous wreck on a stormy day by the time the children were put to bed. There are probably other mothers of small children who sympathize with my friend's attitude and I thought this might be a subject for your excellent column."

"I have adopted a policy of having a 'rainy-day toy box' which at other times is hidden away. Since he doesn't play with these toys often they remain new to him. 'Also, I turn over a couple of chairs in his room so that he has tunnels to play in and I place a piece of plywood against the bed to make a slide on which he can climb up and down.'

"These ideas are not new or original but they have helped me a great deal and might help others. Incidentally, both my husband and I read your column and I clip your articles to send to my sister in another city."

Our leaflet No. 56, "Destructive Tendencies," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldrid in care of this newspaper.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Cupboard For Clothing... Hides Children, Too!

By PENNY SAVER

Now they're making wardrobe cupboards... large enough to hold clothing, shoes and on occasions, Junior! This new type of cupboard is made with sliding doors. The corrugated container is sturdily built with wood frame and doors that slide with greatest of ease.

The sum of $8.98 is the price on this bit of convenience. You know, with the sliding door addition, it means you can tuck your shoes in the bottom of the doors behind him. Poor mom threw a panis... likewise the clerk. But the joke was soon over. The culprit was discovered as he gleefully poked his head in and out of the door just once too often. Well, just goes to show you, two heads are better than one... I think!

Metal shoe racks, to hold at least five or six pair... depending on the size of your tootsies. The four-bar rack is well built and should be worth its weight in gold where children's shoes are concerned. Price tag says 98 pennies.

If there be a time of year for plastic tablecloths, this be it! For under-or-over your good linens the plastic protectors will take the brunt of spilled foods and drinks. The clear cloths, measuring about 54 inches by 72 inches, 79 cents. Patterned for more attractive wear, 54 inches square, 98 cents.

Guess what's on the food menu today? Smart bunions aren't you... how you'd know it was turkey soup and pot pie?

When using canned & fresh mushrooms in sauce, sauté first in small amount of fat cupboard without stooping, bending and rubbing against garments as you work your shoes to the base of the "box."

That reference to Junior in the first paragraph, stems from a story the clerk told me of the little boy who came into the store with his mommy. Seems, while the good woman was busy, the little rascal... decided to have a bit of sport. Ever so gingerly he slipped into the depths of the cupboard and quietly closed the

TODAY'S RECIPE

APPLE ICE CREAM

One teaspoon gelatine, 1 table spoon cold water, 2 cups grated unpeeled apples (4 medium tart red apples), ½ cup fruit or fine granulated sugar, ½ pint whipping cream.

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes, dissolve over hot water. Grate the unpeeled apples. After grating a small amount of apple, measure and sprinkle with part of the sugar to prevent discoloration. Continue grating and sprinkling with sugar until 2 cups apple are measured. Whip cream and add dissolved gelatine blending well. Fold in apple mixture and freeze until set. Yield: Six servings.

Note: For a less rich ice cream, use ½ cup hot milk plus ¼ cup whipping cream in place of the ½ pint whipping cream. Dissolve the soaked gelatine in the hot milk and cool until mixture is partially set. Combine with grated apple. Fold in whipped cream and freeze.

Fresh fruit salads with a generous sprinkling of seeded raisins make converts out of salad-haters. Chewy meaty raisins with their inimitable grape flavor add much to fruit salads to make them taste more delicious. Serve with a cream or boiled dressing.

To protect your perfume if you're not planning to use it for some time, coat the entire top of the bottle with wax.

Four Generations Together

During the past week there has been a happy reunion at the home of Mrs. J. Willock, left, 3134 Cedar Hill Road. Her father, Mr. A. E. Harris, came from Imperial, Sask., for the holiday season and to spend the rest of the winter. A daughter, Mrs. J. Evans, and her small son Jon, seven months old, live at 1548 Cedar Hill Cross Roads, so there is now four generations of the family in Victoria. Jon's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Evans, Welland, Ont.

Visits New Orleans For Holiday Season

Mr. C. A. Vantreight Sr., Gordon Head, left by plane recently to spend the Yuletide season with his younger daughter, Miss Elsie Vantreight, and her fiancé, Mr. C. H. Loker, in New Orleans. He expects to return to his home at Gordon Head sometime in January.

New Year's Day Reception

Lt.-Col. W. J. Mosedale, commanding officer, Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's), and Mrs. Mosedale, will entertain in their Cumberland Road home in the late afternoon on New Year's Day for regimental officers, their wives and friends of the regiment.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bevan will entertain at an after-five reception in their Midland Road home this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Usher were "at home" to 40 guests at their new home, 2677 Dunlevy Street, last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McKenzie, Thurston Bay, were in Langford, for the week-end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McKenzie, Island Highway.

Miss Norma Turner arrived over the week-end from Vancouver to spend the holiday season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Turner, 54 Howe Street.

Miss Barbara Shaw was hostess to 20 guests yesterday afternoon when she entertained at an eggnog party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Shaw, Victoria Avenue.

Annual Christmas party for children of the Royal Jubilee Hospital Employees' Association was held last week-end in the Nurses' Home. One hundred and fifty children and their parents were invited. Movies were shown and Santa Claus distributed gifts from beneath a lighted tree. Refreshments were served and each child received a bag of candy. Mr. George E. Masters, hospital administrator, was a special guest.

The heartbreak of a marriage that made his life both heaven and hell was the tragic secret Ernie Pyle kept through the trying years that made him one of the best loved war correspondents. January Reader's Digest brings you his intimate story, told—often in his own personal letters to his wife and close friends—against the heroic background of his devotion to America's fighting men. Don't miss this 36-page best-seller book condensation in January Reader's Digest. It's just one of 34 articles of lasting interest, condensed from leading magazines and current books.

Governor-General's Daughter To Be Presented

OTTAWA (CP)—Rose, only daughter of Viscount Alexander, will be presented to capital society in a "coming-out" party at Government House on Friday.

Some 800 persons have been invited to the ball. Social circles in the capital say it will be the first time the daughter of a Governor-General has come of age during her father's term of office. Rose was 18 last October.

It also is understood to be the first time Ottawa debutantes have been presented to the Governor-General at a Government House function.

Along with the other debs, Rose will curtsy to her father, recognizing him as the King's official representative in Canada.

Black-haired, smiling-eyed Rose—she's sometimes called "Rosie" by her friends—has been having a busy time these last few days. She is keeping up with all the activities of a busy "deb" and also continuing—and intends to continue—her job in the downtown office of an insurance company.

For the all-important party she will wear a frothy gown of lace and net. It has a pale pink underskirt, with full pleated net skirt and over the whole fine white and silver lace.

If Rose is excited about the prospect of her party, so are the 30-odd other debutantes making their bow this season to capital society. Among them will be Helen Claxton, daughter of Defence Minister Claxton, and Sandra James, daughter of Air Vice-Marshal A. L. James.

In pre-war days, the "debs" came out at the "drawing-room," which was held at the opening of parliament. But the custom died during the war and has never been revived.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomson and their daughter Heather, spent the holiday week-end in Victoria, guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Thomson, Central Avenue. Mr. Thomson has now returned to Vancouver, while Mrs. Thomson and Heather are staying in the city for several days, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boughie, Florence Street.

Carol Tea Part Of Traditional Yule Program

It has become a happy custom with Victorians to meet each Yuletide season at one or other of the Carol Teas sponsored by the Empress Hotel. Second tea was held Boxing Day in the attractive Crystal Ballroom and present for the colorful affair were, left to right, Mrs. Phyllis Roberts, Mrs. W. S. Webster, Mrs. R. W.

Mercer and Mrs. I. S. Douglas. The pretty waitress, Loraine Ruryk, wears a long skirted gown with frilled apron, cap and fishu, part of the Carol Tea motif. Elizabeth costumes are worn by the carolers, who sing a program of rounds, trios, quartettes and solos throughout the afternoon.

Canada Ready For National Ballet, Sadler Wells Solo Dancer Urges

TORONTO (CP)—A top-flight English ballet star calls Canadian ballet a "miracle of achievement" in the face of "terrific obstacles."

But dark-haired Cella Franca of London, who danced and created lead roles there with the famed Sadler's Wells and Ballet Rambert companies, adds this: "There is danger that ballet in Canada may disintegrate."

The attractive ballerina—in her mid-20's—made a flying visit to this country to see the Canadian Ballet Festival, held recently in Montreal with companies from all parts of Canada taking part.

She said in an interview here that "Canada is ready for a national ballet company."

"In each of the companies in the festival, I saw one or two dancers who are ready to turn professional. They are at an age when they should be dancing or training every day. However, they cannot be expected to improve unless they are given the opportunity.

"Ballet in Canada will disintegrate and die and Canada will lose this splendid talent unless something is done. Those with ability and courage will go to England or the United States for the opportunities lacking here."

Miss Franca was commissioned to choreograph "Salome," the first ballet specifically designed for BBC television. She now is working on another series of television ballets.

"But I intend to return to Canada if it is at all possible. I love it here and am most anxious to help in any way I can."

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER

British Potter To Trust Secret Of Work To Woman

LONDON (Reuter)—Veteran potter Charles Vyse, who has spent nearly 30 years perfecting a formula for producing pottery in the style of the centuries-old Sung dynasty of China, will trust his life-long secret to a woman.

She is 27-year-old Barbara Weller, 1943 winner of Britain's Royal Scholarship of Sculpture. Barbara intends to devote her life to sculpture and pottery.

"I can trust her with the secret—she is a fine artist and would never reveal it," declared Vyse, who works on processes used in China from 900 A.D. to 1200 A.D., a period which he said marked the peak of achievement in ceramics.

Vyse, a third-generation potter, is suspicious of all callers at his studio in Chelsea, London's Bohemian quarter. He is anxious lest his hush-hush methods be probed.

He has worked at his potter's wheel or at the kiln from 4 a.m. every morning throughout his career. Now, at 68, he has consented to take one person into his confidence, so that his unique art can be carried on when he dies.

In her spare time, Barbara returns to her parent's 16th century manor house in Sussex and collects the ashes from the countryside to mix with the glaze for the pottery. She explained how the ashes of roses, blended with the glaze, produce a subtle shade of blue, and the ashes of poplar, a strange, fiery red.

"But it goes deeper than that," she said. "It depends on how they have been burned, and at what time of the year."

Vyse, who has sold pieces of his work to many famous collectors, has been invited to China several times to demonstrate his methods. He has always refused.

Dreamily fingering a delicate transparent bowl, with the color of an opal, he said: "This bowl alone has taken me 20 years to achieve."

He passed on to a tiny pair of mottled calves.

"These are similar to the Tenmoku work of the Sung dynasty. There is nobody in the world but myself—and Barbara—who could tell you how they are made."

Industry Has New Uses For Platinum

By HARRY YOUNG, Times Business Editor

The vastly increased use of platinum for industrial purposes is interpretable as an encouraging sign for this section of the mining industry. C. W. Englehard, president of the world's leading dealers and manufacturers of platinum metals, says:

"The demand for platinum metals is at a high level, and their increased use for industrial purposes demonstrates the economic advantage of using precious metals to obtain extraordinary performance."

In spite of rarity and high initial cost, platinum is increasingly finding its way into a wide variety of uses in equipment producing rayon, light bulbs, glass fibre and also in production of high octane gasoline.

The gasoline development has already been brought into Canada by Imperial Oil who have installed at Edmonton a new plant to obtain high octane fuel from natural gasoline by means of a platinum catalyst. By this method high octane fuel can be manufactured at low cost.

Platinum alloys have important uses in the manufacture of domestic appliances. It is used, for instance, in the manufacture of fireproof and easily laundered window curtains. Palladium, one of the platinum metals, is used extensively for electrical contacts in those wonderful, but now taken for granted, automatic electrical devices that are in practically every home.

The future of platinum is bright, and the present price of the metal—$90.93 per ounce—is not likely to go much lower, although during the year it has fluctuated from a high of $100.103 to a low of $66.69.

The fluctuations of common stocks compared with bonds in the past 30 years make an interesting study.

Vance Sanders & Co. of Boston have made a computation in which the index figures have been adjusted to meet the purchasing power of the $, and it shows that while the value of bonds has not moved so sharply as the common stocks, it has made a comparatively small advance.

Stocks, on the other hand, which were worth $7.44 in 1918 are now worth $16.07 in terms of purchasing power.

The following table in terms of a $10,000 investment (adjusted for purchasing power changes) explains itself.

End of Year	Bonds	Stocks
1918—World War I ended	$4,680	$7,440
1921—Depression	6,680	10,460
1929—Boom	7,140	32,840
1932—Depression	6,680	10,460
1937—Boom	11,300	23,360
1942—World War II began	11,990	23,360
1945—End of War	8,840	14,370
1948—World War II ended	8,570	22,210
1950—Current	9,580	16,070

The apparent advantages of common stock investment, however, should be taken with some reserve. Stocks should not be considered as a substitute for

War Would Cause Big Canadian Oil Boom

Special to The Times. CALGARY—The U.S. may import 1,000,000 barrels of oil a day during the first half of 1951 according to the current issue of the Oil and Gas Journal.

Meanwhile there is some concern in high circles regarding the possible loss of foreign sources of oil in view of the serious war situation in the Far East.

Observers see the possibility of Middle East oil being cut off by a sudden move on the part of Russia, and charge a lack of planning on the part of U.S. administration as to just how such deficiencies could be made up.

All this is seen in Alberta as a strong backing for Alberta's development should such an eventuality arise. Far from a bust in the case of war as would be the case with many industries, they see oil quotas increased to the engineering allowances, in high grade bonds, because they do not have the same price stability. But there should be a combination because stocks provide an element of protection against the very evident trend of dollar shrinkage.

Good Year For Bank Of Toronto

It is 95th annual statement released today the Bank of Toronto reports another year of highly satisfactory progress.

Profits were well maintained and at $2,560,692 for the year show a moderate increase. After deductions of $415,519 for depreciation on bank premises and $307,337 for government taxes, the net amount available to shareholders is $1,207,815—up $2,253. Regular dividends of $40,000 and provision for a bonus to shareholders of $120,000 payable January 15, permit $247,815 to be carried forward to profit and loss accounts, which now stands at $1,678,166.

Total assets at $487,000,000 have increased by $28,000,000 over last year and have reached an all-time high.

Loans (including call loans) amount to $178,000,000 and are up sharply by $34,000,000. Securities at $209,000,000 are down in the aggregate $15,000,000.

Deposits by the public have increased $16,000,000 and now exceed $422,000,000.

The ratio of liquid assets to all liabilities to the public is 66.84%.

Death Due To Rare Medical Condition

Doctor Describes Odd Case To Coroner's Jury

A rare medical condition caused the death of John Joseph Cail, 3808 Rowland Avenue, who died in Jubilee Hospital Saturday 18 hours after falling into the waters of the Inner Harbor, Dr. Ross McNeely, pathologist, told a coroner's jury today.

The doctor said Cail died because air leaked from air sacs in the lung into tissue surrounding blood vessels leading to the heart. As air pressure built up in the tissue, he explained, the supply of blood was cut off and the right side of the heart stopped operating.

Dr. McNeely said that although the deceased's lungs showed signs of being previously damaged, the leaking of air undoubtedly occurred as a result of the fall.

In presenting his post mortem report, Dr. McNeely observed the condition was an extremely rare complication, and not a thing which could be done to prevent death.

Captain Harry A. Ormiston, ship's master, said Cail, about 67, had been ship's carpenter on the Estevan for nine months.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death after seven minutes deliberation. Jury members were of the opinion, however, that all ships in harbor should have a safety net slung under their gangways.

Jury foreman Patrick J. O'Brien, a Royal Navy veteran, who served last month on a coroner's jury in connection with the death of a large captain who fell off a make-shift gangway at V.M.D., recommended safety nets should be considered a necessity for ships in port.

Ships Take On Lumber Loads

Four ships were berthed at Ogden Point dock today as longshoremen returned to work following the Christmas break.

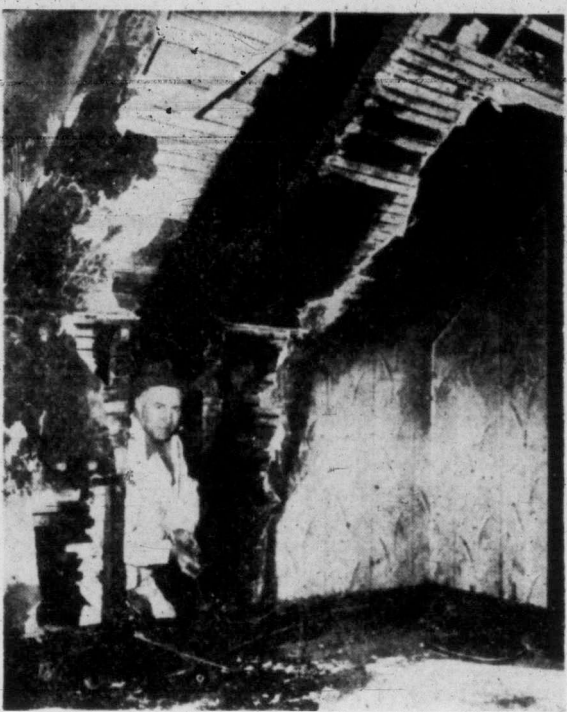

The Ss. Dorington Court of British registry, arrived from the United Kingdom late this morning with general cargo. She is a Furness Line charter. In port for lumber were the Honduran freighter Heron, taking on 856,000 board feet for the U.K., the British ship Alendi Hill 1,500,000 feet, also for U.K., and the Norwegian vessel Norse Lady 700,000 feet for Greece.

The last-named ship is scheduled to sail tonight, the Heron Friday. When the Alendi Hill completes here, she will proceed to Cowichan Bay. The dock there is unoccupied at present.

Chinese Pirates Loot, Release Ship

HONGKONG (Reuter) — The 516-ton Panamanian steamship Islas Visayas, attacked and held by pirates off the China coast Christmas Day, was released Wednesday, it was revealed today.

A radio message from the ship said the pirates had looted some of her cargo and personal belongings of the crew.

Fire-Damaged Apartment House

Electrician Ron Winter repairing damage done by fire Christmas Day to an apartment house at 1507 Laurel Lane. Tenant, Mrs. H. W. C. White, rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from extreme shock, is reported in satisfactory condition.

XXX
Kirsten had used the slight pause to moisten her lips and to breathe deeply a couple of times. Now she held up her hand for attention.

"I did not have to tell you this and this man—Max Lengel is his name—would not have told you I had agreed to do as he ordered me. Therefore you can see it is very important to me to urge you to pay no attention to those who tell you to slow down. I am making it impossible for me to continue to live among you in this town that I love. That's how important it is."

"Because it is so important that this talk about doing less should cease I am going to tell you even more than this man, Max Lengel, would have told you. What I am going to tell you is that the reason I shall make you have a baby which is not my husband's is because the man with whom I was assigned to ride to work did not take me home one night but instead drove me out into the country and, when I struggled against him, he knocked me unconscious. I do not know how an enemy soldier acts with an American nurse whom he has captured, but I think it is probably much the same."

"We can't stop working for anything or anybody. Don't listen to those who try to persuade you. We mustn't even have such people around. So I am going to tell you who is the father of my baby. Guard your wives and daughters from him. Never let them be alone on the streets at night while he is in your town. And don't forget his name. It's Max Lengel!"

Westwago was not a lynching town. That was one of the reasons why Max finally escaped with only a severe community beating—not a bone broken, just some of them bent a little. Two other factors contributed to his luck if you could call it that. The men who would have had fists the roughest with him had fists that he couldn't feel and boots that did not bruise.

The final thing that saved Max's life was the fact that the whistle blew. The swing shift went to work.

Max Lengel's convertible was parked inside the wire stockade which enclosed the boatworks property. The guard at the gate looked at him curiously at the gate went in, located his car and drove it out, but he made no effort to stop him. He, the guard, had seen what had happened to Max but from a considerable distance and he hadn't had a chance to take a poke at him personally, a matter of some slight regret. Max had one eye swollen shut, but it seemed as if that were not quite enough.

Max had a couple of passengers—Eddie and Joe. They didn't have much else to do. Duke elected to run along beside the car.

"I want to know where the louse is going," Eddie explained. "He might bother Margie Lou."

"Not likely," said Joe. "There's nothing like a good beating up to calm a man down."

Max drove the convertible to a filling station. "Fifteen gallons," he told the attendant, "and

U.S. Holds Off Action On Bombing Of Red Dams

WASHINGTON (AP)—Why don't Allied bombers blast the big power dams on the joint Communist border of Manchuria and North Korea?

Some defence officials in Washington offer one explanation: Russia might seize on destruction of the Communist power plants on the Yalu River boundary as a pretext to take an open hand in the Far East war. On the other hand she might not, but

James Stephens Dies In London

LONDON (Reuter)—James Stephens, 68, Irish poet, writer and story teller, died at his home here Tuesday.

Author of "Crock of Gold" and other books steeped in Celtic legend, Stephens was a prominent figure in the Irish literary revival. He was a member of the Irish literary circle which included W. B. Yeats, G. W. Russell and James Joyce.

He belonged to the Irish Academy of Letters and in 1922 was granted a civil pension by the British government.

Stephens was a popular broadcaster with a soft, lilting voice. He was noted for expressive and sensitive movements.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

It would be pleasant but not at all true to report that my teammates made a profit on every hand when they won the world's championship in Bermuda recently. Their biggest loss came on the hand shown today.

When George Rapee played the hand for America, he was pleased rather than disappointed with the opening lead. By playing the nine of spades from dummy he could surely pick up the jack of spades, which otherwise might have been a thorn in his flesh.

East played the jack of spades at the first trick, and South won with the ace. Now Rapee could afford only one more round of trumps, because he had to do something about the hearts.

His plan was to establish the dummy rather than his own hand. Dummy's losing diamond could eventually be discarded on the queen of clubs (after the ace and king had been played). The only way to dispose of dummy's losing hearts was to ruff them in the South hand—for which South would need two trumps. Hence South could afford to draw only two rounds of trumps. At the third trick Rapee switched to hearts, cashing the ace and then the king. His next step was to ruff a low heart with the four of spades—whereupon West over-ruffed. Rapee had played the hand properly, but he was nevertheless defeated at his grand slam contract.

In the other room, the hand was played by a member of the European team (Einar Thorfinnsson, of Iceland). Thorfinnsson actually held the North hand, but he played the grand slam contract because he was the first player to bid spades at that table.

In that room Charles H. Goren, of Philadelphia, had to make the opening lead from the East hand. It was a very difficult problem, and perhaps no lead would have done much good since the hand was being played from the North position. Unfortunately Goren opened a heart, which gave North a free finesse and no further problem.

Now declarer had only one losing heart to worry about, and he could afford to draw three rounds of trumps.

The difference between making the slam and losing it was 1560 points.

Meet God halfway when you pray

Do you know how to meet God halfway in your prayers? Do you realize the wisdom of adding "Nevertheless, not my will but Thine be done?"

In January Reader's Digest Fulton Oursler tells how great men—like Lincoln—have learned to listen to God when they pray for guidance. How prayer brings inner harmony to the life of the humblest—how hard-boiled skeptics who study with an open mind become impressed with the results of prayer.

First Quadruple Amputee Of Korea Flown Home To U.S.

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A 20-year-old soldier from Pennsylvania is believed to be the first quadruple amputee to come home from the Korean war.

The youngster was identified here Tuesday by Col. A. H. Corliss of the air base hospital, as Pie, Robert L. Smith, whose widowed mother, Mrs. Clara Smith lives in Middleburg, Pa.

"His morale and condition are excellent," said Col. Corliss, commanding officers of the hospital. Authorities at Travis Field Hospital declined to discuss the amputations, or to say how much Smith had lost from each limb.

In Washington, however, the army said Smith lost both hands above the wrists and both legs below the knees. Prosthetics necessitated the amputations.

An army spokesman said Smith
